

What is the Single Damper?

Crawford Ranges

have a patented damper which by one motion regulates fire and oven, better than two dampers can. Push the knob to "Kindle", "Bake", or "Check"—the range does the rest. This Single Damper is the greatest improvement ever made in stoves. All other ranges have two or more dampers.

The Two Hods in the base—the Ash Hod—instead of the old clumsy ash pan—with Coal Hod beside it—is another patented Crawford improvement. Both hods free.

Gas ovens if desired; end [single] or elevated [double].

SIX DROWNED FROM CUTTER.

Assistant Surgeon Jenkins and Five Other Men Die.

Washington, Oct. 13.—A radiogram to the revenue cutter service yesterday from the commander of the Bering Sea fleet reported the drowning of Assistant Surgeon L. W. Jenkins, P. H. S., and five other men when a boat from the cutter Manning was swamped Saturday in Unalga pass, off Cape Scharich.

Stop Those Early Bronchial Coughs.

They hang on all winter if not checked and pave the way for serious throat and lung diseases. Get a bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound and take it freely. Stops coughs and colds, heals raw inflamed throat, loosens the phlegm and is mildly laxative. Best for children and grown persons. No opiates.—Adv.

W. T. Hutchens, Nicholson, Ga., had a severe attack of rheumatism. His feet, ankles and joints were swollen and moving about was very painful. He was certainly in a bad way when he started to take Foley's Kidney Pills. He says: "Just a few doses made me feel better, and now my pains and rheumatism are all gone and I sleep all night long."—Adv.

U. S. DIPLOMATIC

OFFICIALS IN HEROIC ROLES

Those in Belgium Have Undergone Great Hardships and Personal Risk in Service in the War Zone.

Washington, Oct. 13.—In their zeal to protect not only American citizens, but those of the allied countries whose interests have been confided to them, the American consular officials in Belgium—especially in Antwerp—have exposed themselves to great personal danger and discomfort during the vast military operations which have marked the German conquest of Brussels and Antwerp. Advice to the state department show that Henry W. Dietrich, the American consul general at Antwerp, with his family, fled from the city only after the bombardment had actually begun, while Harry Tuck Sherman, the vice consul, delayed his departure with his family so long that they suffered terrible privations and personal danger in getting to a place of safety. Even now they are without money and in a very uncomfortable situation. Hugh Gibson, the young secretary of legation at Brussels, has voluntarily, in the absence of other means of communication, made himself a personal messenger for Brand Whitlock, the American minister to Belgium, between Antwerp and Brussels and London. He has been obliged to pass repeatedly through the military lines of the belligerents at great personal risk, and yesterday's dispatches announced his departure again Sunday from Antwerp for Brussels.

LANDIS SUED FOR $25,000.

Judge Sent Man to Jail for Thirty Days on Contempt Charge.

Chicago, Oct. 13.—Suit for $25,000 damages filed against United States Judge Kenesaw M. Landis on Saturday, it became known yesterday, is the result of thirty days spent in jail by Frank Blackledge on a contempt charge preferred by the federal judge. If the suit is pressed to trial it will be the first time in local history, it is said, that a United States judge was sued for damages as a result of one of his decisions. Blackledge became involved in a bankruptcy suit, and Judge Landis accused him of perjury. He bases his claim for damages on alleged impairment of his health due to his stay in jail, loss of his position and $2,400, which is alleged, was involved in the bankruptcy proceedings.

NERVE-RACKING GAME THRO' 12 INNINGS

Was Witnessed by 35,520 People Inside Park at Boston

Boston, Oct. 13.—Before 35,520 people gathered inside the Fenway park yesterday afternoon, the Boston Braves won their third successive victory in the world's series with the Philadelphia Athletics—won it in the 12th after the game had seemingly been lost in the 10th inning, when the visiting team secured a two-run lead in the first half, only to be matched in the second half.

The real star of the game was Hank Gowdy, the bank catcher of the Braves, who wielded his bludgeon for three hits, a home run and two doubles. Gowdy batted in the Braves' first run with a slashing double in the second inning, started a desperate rally in the 10th with a home run drive and opened the final attack in the 12th with another two-sacker. It was a great day for Gowdy. At the bat Captain Evers was not far behind, with three singles.

Philadelphia scored in the first inning on Murphy's two-bagger, Oldring's sacrifice and Connolly's error on Collins' liner. Connolly was too anxious to get away his throw to the plate.

The Braves evened the score in the second inning on Maranville's pass and Gowdy's two-base smash into the new bleachers in deep left, the batter being held at second by ground rules.

Each side scored one in the fourth inning. For Philadelphia, McInnis doubled into left field and came home on Walsh's single between Deal and Maranville. For Boston Schmidt singled over second and after Deal had been brought out by Collins Maranville brought Schmidt in with a smash to center.

It looked as if the game had been broken up in the first half of the 10th when the Athletics scored twice. Schang singled and after Bush had struck out Murphy hit to Tyler, who threw too late to get Schang at second. Oldring went out. Evers to Schmidt, but Collins walked. Baker singled through Evers and Schang scored, while Collins also sneaked across when Evers held the ball. McInnis died out to Whitted.

At the Braves' turn at the bat, Gowdy was first up and he smashed the ball into the center field bleachers for a home run. Devore was sent to bat for Tyler and he struck out. Moran walked. Evers singled, sending Moran to third. Connolly sent out a sacrifice fly to Walsh and Moran scored the tying run. Whitted closed the inning by flying out.

The 11th, with James pitching for Boston and Bush still in the box for Philadelphia, was unproductive of runs. In the 12th, James passed Murphy, but Oldring went out, James to Schmidt, Murphy advancing to second. Collins died out to Deal. Baker was passed but was forced at second by McInnis.

It was so dark in the last half of the 12th that the ball could scarcely be seen from the stand. After getting two strikes, Gowdy doubled into the left field bleachers and Mann was sent in to run for him. Gilbert went to bat for James and drew a pass. Moran bunted to Bush, who threw wild to Barry and Mann crossed the plate with the winning run. The score:

CHRISTMAS TREE FINES.

Quarantine Violations Cause Penalties to Be Imposed on Shippers.

Washington, Oct. 13.—Enforcement of the so-called Christmas tree quarantine to the Department of agriculture has begun. The Boston & Maine railroad has been fined $125; L. M. Perkins, agent for the B. C. Jordan estate of Alfred Maine has been fined $70 and L. L. Clark of Hollis, Maine, $75 dollars for shipping lumber from an area quarantined on account of gipsy and house-tail moth. Department officials are inclined to feel that the quarantined districts have been so extensively alerted that there can be little excuse for not knowing what they are.

A holiday crowd saw Spaulding high school take the first game of its series with Montpelier high at the Lincoln school campus yesterday afternoon. Probably 600 fans took the Gospel Village road to see the local boys enter away with a 21 to 0 victory. It was a game in which Spaulding outclassed its opponents in defensive and offensive work, open play, in fact in everything but punting. True to tradition, Montpelier sprung a back who can punt far and away beyond the best that the high school's backs can kick. Hancock's toe and an ungulate slope which marks the approach to the schoolhouse goal on the south kept the home lads from rolling up a heavier majority.

In many respects the contest was a revelation to Spaulding supporters. Spaulding's whirlwind attack was much different from the feeble front which Goddard met a few days back. Much remains to be accomplished in the way of shaping tactics, but there's no gainsaying improvement in the team along a variety of lines. Some of the biggest thrills of the afternoon were contributed by the local backs. Smith in particular, and Tomasi, Gordon, and Sedor in general. Toward the end Coach Agnew sent Broderick at full and the stocky North Barre youth proved himself a factor in wading through the line when the second and last touchdowns were in the making. Spaulding's line braced itself well and against it Montpelier's defensive could make but little progress.

It was a day of reckoning for the capital city legions. Memories of some two games that didn't go to Spaulding in 1913 were not entirely erased when the men took the field and the local huskies were not to be robbed of a manly revenge. That was evident from the outset. Montpelier made its downs no more than twice, while Spaulding resorted to punting only once. The teams were penalized infrequently and neither team evinced much of a disposition to "rough it." Beyond all question the game proved that Barre and Montpelier high school teams can come together, struggle gamely for victory, and do it without breaking the peace.

Only the first and last periods were prolific of scoring. Twice the visitors buckled on their armor a little tighter than usual and held the enemy at bay in the shadow of their own goal posts. That they did resist advance so effectively was due in part to their own brace and then again to the angle by which the goal approach on the south must be negotiated. A well-grounded defense with its back to the hill can stem the tide of an attack that might sweep that same defense off its feet in the center of the field. But Montpelier

NERVOUS CHILDREN

Children are nervous because they inherit a tendency to nervousness, because they overstudy or overwork or because they are run down physically. Whatever the cause, nervous children need careful management. Scolding does no good and most forms of punishment are harmful. See that the patient does not overwork or overstudy, give good nourishing food, sufficient outdoor exercise and a safe, non-alcoholic tonic. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are the tonic for such cases, harmless, sugar-coated and easy to take. As the tonic treatment builds up the child's nervous strength there will be less demands on their temper, less temptation to accid. When nervous children get in "tantrums" put them to bed, whatever the hour of the day. If the paroxysm continues, give the child a warm bath and return it to bed. And persist in the tonic treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, the nourishing food and the exercise. It is surprising how many nervous disorders are corrected by building up the blood. Even St. Vitus' dance will yield if you are faithful.

A book on Nervous Disorders will be sent free on request by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., if you mention this paper. Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Makes Stubborn Coughs Vanish in a Hurry

Surprisingly Good Cough Syrup Easily and Cheaply Made at Home

If some one in your family has an obstinate cough or a bad throat or chest cold that has been hanging on and refuses to yield to treatment, get from any drug store 2½ ounces of Pinex and make it into a most effective remedy, at a saving of 5¢. A day's use will usually overcome a hard cough. Easily prepared in 5 minutes—full directions with Pinex. Keeps perfectly and has a pleasant taste. Children like it.

It's really remarkable how promptly and sure it breaks up a hoarse or tight throat and begets the relief sometimes in a painful cough. It also stops the formation of phlegm in the throat and loosens it, then ending the persistent low cough. A splendid remedy for hemorrhoids, winter coughs, bronchial asthma and whooping cough.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, rich in pinene, which is so healing to the membranes. Avoid disappointment by asking your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex," and do not accept anything else. A guarantee of absolute satisfaction goes with this preparation or money promptly refunded. 5 Women Avoid Operations

For years we have been stating in the newspapers of the country that a great many women have escaped serious operations by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it is true.

We are permitted to publish in this announcement extracts from the letters of five women. All have been recently received unsolicited. Could any evidence be more convincing?

1. HODGSON, ME.—"I had pains in both sides and such a soreness I could scarcely straighten up at times. My back ached and I was so nervous I could not sleep, and I thought I never would be any better until I submitted to an operation, but I commenced taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and soon felt like a new woman."—Mrs. HAYWARD SOWERS, Hodgdon, Me.

2. CHARLOTTE, N. C.—"I was in bad health for two years, with pains in both sides and was very nervous. I had a growth which the doctor said was a tumor, and I never would get well unless I had an operation. A friend advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I gladly say that I am now enjoying fine health."—Mrs. ROSA SIMS, 16 Winona St., Charlotte, N. C.

3. HANOVER, PA.—"The doctor advised a severe operation, but my husband got me Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I experienced great relief in a short time. Now I feel like a new person and can do a hard day's work and not mind it."—Mrs. ADA WILT, 196 Stock St., Hanover, Pa.

4. DECATUR, ILL.—"I was sick in bed and three of the best physicians said I would have to be taken to the hospital for an operation as I had something growing in my left side. I refused to submit to the operation and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—and it worked a miracle in my case, and I tell other women what it has done for me."—Mrs. LAURA A. GRISWOLD, 2300 Blk. East William Street, Decatur, Ill.

5. CLEVELAND, OHIO.—"I was very irregular and for several years my side pained me so that I expected to have to undergo an operation. Doctors said they knew of nothing that would help me. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I became regular and free from pain. I am thankful for such a good medicine and will always give it the highest praise."—Mrs. C. H. GRIFFITH, 7305 Madison Av., Cleveland, O.

made a determined stand, nevertheless, and Hancock's booting came in mighty timely on both occasions.

Spaulding Scored in First Period.

Through it all Spaulding used the forward pass and used it to make good gains. The winners essayed the open game, however, while the vanquished struck more closely to old-time tactics. Sedor's throwing arm was at its best and usually the ball went through without any interceptions. Barely three minutes elapsed before the first touchdown came. Goodenough kicked to Sedor and after a series of end runs by Smith and line plunges by Tomasi and Gordon, Smith, the cleverest little loop-finder on the field, circled right end for a touchdown. Sedor kicking the goal. Tomasi kicked to Olney, but Montpelier was held for downs at once. Before the end of the quarter came Hancock had punted, Spaulding had been penalized 15 yards for holding and Mack had intercepted Sedor's pass on Montpelier's 40-yard line.

Montpelier's Stubborn Defense Held.

In the second period Montpelier attempted the pass, but with poor success. Gordon, Smith and Sedor worked effectively, but beyond Montpelier's eight-yard line the team could advance no further. Once the ball swung to Montpelier, Hancock punted, but ere the whistle sounded the ball was back on the 16-yard line and Spaulding loomed up as threateningly as ever. Again in the third period Montpelier held well in her own theatre. Tomasi kicked off to Devore and then flared his man in his tracks. Olney made a telling gain through tackle, but fumbled to Olney. On a quick shift, Tomasi shot a pass to Alexander, but the ball was returned to the point of starting as the officials ruled that the pass to a lineman was illegal. A steady march brought the leather to the threshold of another touchdown, but Montpelier held stiffly again and the period ended just as Hancock punted to Tomasi.

Two Touchdowns in Last Quarter.

Three minutes of the last quarter sufficed for a touchdown, the Broderick-Smith combination sending the ball over in the latter arms, and Sedor kicked the goal. On the kick-off Hancock received, but his team could not gain and a long punt followed. Tomasi and Broderick got in some splendid work at this juncture and before long Tomasi scored the third touchdown, Sedor kicking the goal. Montpelier was keen on redemption as Sedor kicked off to Smith and Hancock's clean forward pass to Smith was by all odds the longest of the game. It failed to work a second time, but Olney waggled through the line for a good gain, only to have the brief sprint blocked summarily. A wet field and poor footing had exhausted both teams by this time and when Hancock punted to Tomasi, the compliment was presently returned, for Spaulding fell down on two attempted passes. The game ended with the ball in Montpelier's possession near the center of the field. The summary:
